

The Canadian Foundation for Dental Hygiene Research and Education (CFDHRE), in partnership with Canadian Dental Assistants Association (CDAA), invites proposals for a one-year research project that will advance knowledge surrounding the impact of the dental practice environment on dental assistants' and dental hygienists' hearing. Thanks to the support from the CDAA, the CFDHRE will fund one successful proposal in response to this call in the amount of $25,000 (inclusive of all taxes and expenses).

The CFDHRE and the CDAA have a deep commitment to gaining a better understanding of the dental practice environment on health care provider health and safety and encourages researchers from the fields of Audiology, oral health and other related disciplines, including interdisciplinary collaborations, to apply.

The deadline for proposals will be November 30, 2015. Further details and criteria surrounding the application will be made available on the CFDHRE website: <http://www.cfdhre.ca>.
